

LAURA FARRIS

Call: 2007

Recommended as a leading junior in employment and discrimination law who acts in cases 'that stand to have lasting effects on the law' and is sought out for advice on everything from 'high-value City claims and High Court matters to complex discrimination claims.' (Chambers UK)

"She is fantastic, her written work is fantastic, she's extremely good in meetings. She is a very safe pair of hands and completely calm under fire." (Chambers UK 2017)

"A calm and incisive junior with a confidence born out of the fact that she knows her case backwards." (Chambers and Partners 2015)

"Very good with clients and able to instil confidence." (Chambers and Partners 2015)

Laura's practice spans the range of employment, equality, partnership and commercial disputes as well as public and tax law.

In 2015 she was appointed to the panel of Counsel for the Equality and Human Rights Commission and in 2014 as Junior Counsel to the Crown (C-Panel).

She has advised and represented clients in the Employment Tribunal, the Employment Appeal Tribunal, the High Court and Court of Appeal and is regularly instructed on high-value or high-profile cases.

Many of her employer clients are from the financial services sector and include investment banks, private equity houses and hedge funds. She also acts for employers in the education and health care sectors (including the NHS), blue chip companies, local authorities, trade unions, charities and both local and national government departments. Her claimant clients are often senior executives and she has experience of securing high value compensatory awards involving the assessment of whole career loss.

Laura has particular experience of complex discrimination and whistleblowing complaints and disciplinary/regulatory matters. Her commercial practice intersects with her employment work and encompasses post-termination restraints, High Court injunctions and LLP/Partnership disputes.

Her public law practice primarily centres on educational and equalities issues. She has acted in judicial review applications in the High Court and appeared in the First Tier and Upper Tribunals in relation to SEN issues.

In relation to tax, Laura is instructed in both statutory appeals and judicial review claims on behalf of both HMRC and the tax payer and has appeared in the specialist tax tribunals, the High Court and Court of Appeal.

Before becoming a barrister Laura worked in journalism for Reuters Business TV and BBC News and for Hillary Clinton in her New York Senate Office.

Disciplinary and Regulatory

Laura conducts disciplinary and grievance investigations on behalf of educational establishments, financial institutions and local authorities. Recently she has:

- Investigated a disciplinary matter on behalf of a local authority concerning allegations of gross negligence by a care worker in a respite home;
- Investigated a grievance concerning allegations of race discrimination brought by a staff member at a girls school;
- Investigated a grievance concerning allegations of sex discrimination brought by a senior manager at an investment bank;
- Advised an investment bank on its handling of a disciplinary hearing concerning a member staff implicated in serious malpractice.

Commercial

Laura's commercial practice encompasses business protection matters, including High Court injunctions, misuse of confidential information and bonus disputes. She is also instructed in contractual disputes, LLP/Partnership disputes, competition claims, procurement and costs. In 2013 she spent four months on secondment at the Office of Fair Trading where she was involved in a formal investigation into epyx Ltd. ["Epyx"] – a company supplying e-trading platforms in the automotive industry – whom the OFT had reasonable grounds to believe was abusing its dominant market position.

Her recent commercial cases include:

- T&M v VCM LLP [2014] – Acting for the Claimants in a partnership dispute involving tax related issues arising out of a breach of an LLP agreement.
- B v Leeds City Council [2014] – Advising the Claimant, an independent contractor, on EU procurement issues and a potential high-value claim for breach of contract.

- Southern Rock Insurance v Endsleigh Insurance (led by Colin Edelman QC and Richard Harrison) - a breach of contract claim valued in excess of £15 million against a claims handling service arising out of 50,000 motor insurance claims.

Public Law

Laura's public law practice centres on educational and immigration issues and often dovetails with her discrimination work. She has acted in judicial review applications concerning public sector equality duties under the Equality Act 2010, and recently advised the NASUWT teachers' union on a potential judicial review application in relation to Government changes to performance management and capability procedures led by Helen Mountfield QC. Her recent cases include:

- R (Dean Wilson) v Office of the Independent Adjudicator and others [2014] EWHC 558 (Admin): Represented the Defendant at a judicial review hearing concerning its decision regarding the Claimant's degree classification and the quantum of damages.
- R (Gopikrishna) v Office of the Independent Adjudicator CO/11271/2013 - represented the Defendant in a judicial review permission hearing concerning the procedural fairness of its decision not to review the relevant university's degree decision and alleged non-compliance with its public sector equality duty.
- McLavery Atkins & Cooper v The Lord Chancellor [2014] – advising the Defendant in a potential judicial review challenge relating to a legal aid classification decision.
- R (McEwan) v National Taxing Team [2013] High Court: Acting for the Respondent in a judicial review of its assessment of costs in defending a criminal charge.

Tax

Laura is developing a substantial contentious tax practice in which she is instructed in cases by both HMRC and the taxpayer. She has experience of both statutory appeals and judicial review claims in the tax context and has appeared in the specialist tax tribunals, the High Court and Court of Appeal.

Her recent instructions include:

- R (McEwan) v National Taxing Team [2013] High Court: Acting for the Respondent in a judicial review of its assessment of costs in defending a criminal charge.
- Latchways v Commissioners for HMRC [2013], First Tier Tax Tribunal: Acted for HMRC in an appeal against import duties.
- Lewis v HMRC [2013] First Tier Tax Tribunal: Concerning HMRC's decision that VAT and import duties were properly chargeable in a Transfer of Residence context and that this was not a "special case" justifying an extension of time.
- Giant Strongbox v HMRC [2010] First Tier Tax Tribunal, led by Tim Brennan QC: Represented the tax payer, an umbrella employment agency, in an appeal concerning the proper meaning of "temporary workplaces" and the corresponding tax consequences for those whom it engaged.
- R (Prudential Plc.) v Special Commissioner of Income Tax [2010] EWCA Civ. 1094, led by Tim

Brennan QC: Acted for the Respondent in an appeal concerning the application of legal professional privilege to accountants giving tax advice.
